President Falconer,

Dear Sir,

My expenses come to thirty-eight dollars, of which I have received thirty;
it would suit me best if you would forward the remaining eight dollars to me here.

I have consulted Professor

Dear Mr. Thomson:

I am sending you a cheque for the remaining eight dollars of your expenses. I hope that you will hear from me on Friday of next week, though in the present condition of finances, as I said before, I cannot guarantee anything definite before the meeting of the Board. I am glad that you came to Toronto so that we could talk over the situation. With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

William Thorson, Esq.,

Dear Mr. Thorson:

I telegraphed to you yesterday afternoon that the Board of Governors had appointed you as temporary lecturer in Arabic for the present session at a salary of six hundred dollars. Your duties will continue until the end of the examinations, which would mean probably the end of the month of May.

In making the appointment the Board of Governors want it to be distinctly understood that it is only to be an appointment for the session and in no way carries with it any promise for an appointment for the next year.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

Mr William Thomson, M.A., Glasgow, has held the position of Special Lecturer in Oriental in University College Toronto since January of this year. He came here when Professor Benjamin resigned and has taken his work in Arabic. He is I believe an excellent Arabic scholar and has given satisfaction in his work, but next year we expect to have Dr James Craig late of Michigan University in the position, so that Mr Thomson will not be disappointed. This is all one many dissatisfaction with his work.

He came to occupy a temporary portion where the two pipes she has done her work to are complete satisfaction very well.

Prof. Y. Y. Y. Y.

President of the University of Toronto.
